Unparalleled Luxury Living – Villa for Sale in Dubai, Al Barari, The Reserve

Luxury is not a number, it is a lifestyle. It is not about being the biggest or the brightest or the first, it is about the subtle details that differentiate the ordinary from the extraordinary. The Reserve at Al Barari has been created by perfectionists for perfectionists

Residents at The Reserve have access to six verdant gardens bisected by waterways that are the lungs and lifeblood of the private estate, whilst at the same time have access to the 1.2 million sq.ft Al Barari Plant Nursery, maintenance and design services to create their own paradise in the extensive private garden of their villa

As Dubai realizes its potential as a truly international centre of financial and cultural significance, The Reserve at Al Barari answers the demand from discerning international buyers who no longer view the city as temporary or transient. Newcomers, as well as long-term residents, seek a more considered, pared-back and understated luxury, focused on the details that define quality of life; enhanced living space, integration with the natural environment and a home finished in pure luxury
